Accumulation of Gas in the Stomach

One of the Most Common Symptoms of Dyspepsia and Deranged Digestion.

The presence of a small quantity of gas in the alimentary canal may be described as constituting the ordinary condition, as certain foods, such as peas, beans, etc., naturally eliminate and create gas while undergoing digestion.

It is only when this gas accumulates to such extent as to cause inconvenience, and belching, that a person may be said to be suffering from flatulence. This collection of gas becomes in extreme cases so great that a swelling presents itself in the pit of the stomach, and when this stage is reached, especially when the clothes of the person being loosed to obviate the distress occasioned by pressure.

Attempts are usually made to get rid of this stomach-gas by eructation, and immediate relief is sometimes obtained when this is accomplished. Infants are very subject to flatulence, especially when their natural food is taken away too hastily, and when food other than that provided for them by nature is given them. Mothers and nurses are familiar with this infantile trouble, and have various remedies for it. The most popular of which is charcoal, which relieves the trouble completely, by absorbing gases, thereby relieving the colicky pains of the infant, which is the symptom of the most frequently causes the nightly crying spells.

It is a marvelous absorbent, and is capable of oxidizing and absorbing one hundred times its own volume in gases. It is applicable to all cases of flatulence or gas in the stomach, and is entirely harmless, it can be taken, by any one, with comparative impunity and without fear of its doing any harm whatever to the system.

Infants and old people can use it as readily as young persons and those of the prime of life, and nothing but benefit can result from its use. It can also be used in any quantity, and in this respect it differs from drugs sometimes employed for stomach troubles, as the dosage of these must be regulated by a physician. Not so with charcoal, however, as is shown by the fact that a French surgeon used as much as fifteen ounces per day, every day of the last thirty years of his life.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges should be employed in all cases where the stomach is filled with gases resulting from the indigestion of food, and also from the use of those vegetable foods which seem naturally to engender gas, and promote the accumulation of gas. These wonderful little lozenges, which have an enormous and ever-increasing sale, are made of pure charcoal, combined with pure honey, and furnish to the sufferer from stomach-gases and indigestion, the very best and most palatable and delightful form in which charcoal can be administered to the stomach.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are exceedingly agreeable to the taste, in striking contrast and contra-distinction to the ordinary powdered charcoal, which is a most unpleasant dose to take. Each package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, today, from our name and address for free sample package. Address P. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

State Auditor, After Inspecting Offices, Hopes to Introduce Uniform System.

As soon as the rush of business is over, State Auditor Jesse D. Jewkes will make the rounds of several counties to inspect their systems of book-keeping. Then he will call a meeting of all the county officials of the state to discuss taxation and arrange a uniform system.

It had been intended at first to hold the convention in Salt Lake during the present month, but it was soon discovered that November is, all around, the busiest month of the year for county officials, so a later date will be chosen. It is hoped to make the meeting of county officials an annual affair.

Picture of Health After Whooping Cough

MR. A. B. TILLAPAUGH AND DAUGHTER

Mr. A. B. Tillapaugh, of Chesterton, Ind., says his little daughter's lungs were left very weak after a severe attack of whooping cough. For years they tried various remedies without good results; finally, when the case seemed almost hopeless, they tried Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with marvelous success.

Mr. Tillapaugh writes: "My little daughter, who is now 7 years old, at the age of 7 months had a severe attack of whooping cough, which left her lungs in a very weakened condition. She grew worse in spite of all we could do. Different doctors prescribed for her, but without effect. We dragged along this way for nearly six years, almost hopeless but not conquered."

"A friend advised Duffy's Malt Whiskey and I procured a bottle. That was about five months ago. The first dose seemed to help her, and she is now at school, and I think about cured. Thank God, my little girl is now the picture of health."

The little sufferers from whooping cough, measles and the other diseases incident to childhood often become physical wrecks from the severity of the attacks and yield to other diseases vastly more fatal. Want of nutrition from impaired digestion is usually the cause, but the kidneys, the lungs and air passages may be affected, and this too often leads to serious complications. What the little sufferers need, as in the case of Mr. Tillapaugh's daughter, is a remedy that will prove a food and a medicine at the same time. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is this remedy in perfection. It excites the proper digestion and assimilation of the food by its influence upon the salivary glands of the mouth and the gastric glands of the stomach; without requiring digestion, it is burned or oxidized within the body, and, like other foods, produces heat and energy. By its tonic and soothing influence upon the physical and mental forces it calms nervous irritability and gives tone and vigor to the body.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a tonic and stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It aids in destroying disease, and by its building and healing properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of consumption, pneumonia, grippe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low-fever, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakened conditions, if taken in time.

If in need of advice, write Medical Department, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, New York, stating your case fully. Our doctor will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated medical booklet, containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine. It is sold by druggists, grocers and dealers or direct, $1.00 per large bottle.
